KwikBoost EdgePower™ is the wireless power solution for today's dynamic work environments. It's the first portable charging station that easily clamps onto desks, tables, and other everyday work surfaces. This innovative solution frees conference rooms, coworking spaces, libraries, classrooms, and more from hazardous, unsightly extension cords and power strips. EdgePower provides convenient, rechargeable power when you need it and where you require it.

To take the guesswork out of choosing the right setup for your work or learning space, EdgePower is available in an array of bundle options. Choose the bundle you need based on the number of users and how often each user may need supplemental power. If your needs increase in the future, it's easy to expand and scale up your EdgePower system with additional components.
